Your assigned K-9 Crew Date of Attendance: _____

The following itinerary will be your guide to this experience

10:00 – 10:15am – Meet at the Rondy Hospitality Room. You will be met by a Rondy Board Member and a representative from the Alaskan Sled Dog & Racing Association.

At this meeting, you will be introduced to the “Rondy” races, importance of safety, respect of the effort by the World Championship mushers and procedures while in the race starting chute. You will be given your credentials, safety vest and prepare to head down to the Start Area to meet your musher. The Rondy Hospitality Room will be open Friday, Saturday and Sunday and will be a good place for you to warm up and have a cup of coffee during the Race.

10:45am – Start Area to Meet your Musher! We will escort you to the start area to meet the musher for whom you will be handling dogs and you will spend time getting to know your musher and his/her team. Your musher will instruct you on what you can do to help at the line. Feel free to ask questions but always remember that they have put in thousands of hours training their team to compete in this World Open Championship event and are focused on the races.

11:45am-12:45pm (approximately) – When it is time for your musher to prepare for his or her start, we will proceed to the bleachers at the starting line. You will be on hand to assist your musher when their team is at the line. After your musher has left the line, please move into the K9 Crew corral to allow the next team and K-9 Crew to advance without delay.

After all the teams are out, there will be time for your K9 Team photo at the start line and may be other activities in the area, so please feel free to enjoy events, or head up to the Rondy Hospitality Room for a cup of coffee.

1:25pm (approximately) – Teams will begin to return and cross the finish line. Keep an eye out for the Trail Guard at Cordova to raise the flag, signaling that a dog team is in sight. When the teams are in please feel free to move back into the K9 Crew Corral to later meet with your musher to discuss the race or lend a hand if requested / needed.

Thank you and have a great time!

The Awards Ceremony & Banquet will be held Sunday, February 24th at 6pm. You will be welcome to attend as our guests, be recognized as dignitaries, and visit again with your musher.
